TRACO POWER TMT and TMT-C Series

Status Change to NRND (Not Recommended for New Designs)

TRACO POWER TMT Series and TMT-C Series have become mature and therefore TRACO has decided to change the status of subject series to "Not Recommended for New Designs".

Mentioned products are planned to remain active for several years with regulatory compliance to be frozen on legacy status in order to support sustaining production of customer's old designs.

Customers considering new designs with similar products may perform evaluations on following TRACO POWER Products: TMP; TMP-C; TMM24; TMM40; TMM60; TML; TML-C.

We draw your express attention to the fact that the full compatibility of any replacement model and its suitability for the specific customer application have not been checked by TRACO and cannot be guaranteed.

The approval of the model is the sole responsibility of the customer. New or replacement models must therefore be checked accordingly in advance by the customer

We thank you for considering TRACO POWER products in your new designs.

Best regards,
Traco Electronic AG
